See 6 c have much to do with the improvement. In prices, also, Memphis makes a good appearance this week, quoting most part of it on an equality with New Orieans. Good cottons have been in sharp demand all the week, and desire for them has evidently increased since the late bad weather has thrown so much dusty cotton on the market. Trashy staff meets with no attention, but clean cottons of all grades are in demand, as also are clean stains, a quality of cotton that annually appears to advance in favor. The sales of the past week (15.300) were the largest of any week of the season; the sales of the week ending November 5th came nearest—18.200 bates.

Receipts in Memphis during the week ending Frieny aggregated 30,384 bales, against 27,170 hales the previous week, and 20,621 bales the corresponding week last season. The total receipts since September 1, 1875, are 238,430 bales, against 185,275 bales the corresponding time last season, showing an increase of 53,155 bales.

Shipments during the week ending Friday. FLOUR—Superfine, 84 5065; double extra, $5256575; treble extra, $63650; choice, $7256 775; fancy, $838 99 per bbl.
CORNMEAL—Kila-dried, $26062 55 per bbl.
CORN—Active; mixed, 543650; white, 556570 per bulb.

DUCONGE'S PECTORAL

NEABLY haif a century has clapsed since the discovery of this wonderful compound. Its well-entablished virtue and its high reputation in all aliments of the chest, lungs, breast and bowels, it so well known and has been lested for so many years by such extensive patronage that it would be superful out at this late day to dwell at any length on its efficacy in colds, asthms, brought is indiammation of the threat, stomach or bowels, spitting of blood, and whooping cough.

It has been found highly beneficial in all inflammatory discrete, such as rheamatism, diarrhea or dysant ry and summer complaint, and especially in those case of cholirine which for want, of proper care so often degenerate into confirmed cholers.

In all affections of the lungs, verging on consumption, it has been found most efficacious in preventing that most awful scourge whenever timely resorted to.

Besides its acknowledged certainty of cure, this trily extraordinary medicine has, over most compounds of the same nature, the decided advantage that confirmed colded advantage that this trilly extraordinary medicine has, over most compounds of the same nature, the decided advantage that, owing to its agreeable flavor, it can be administered without the least difficulty to children, and it requires no particular diet. It is also the cheapest, not puly because the bottles contain more syruphian any other, but owing to its peculiar composition this syrup will keep for years without fermenting, and it can be used in families whenever required, by simply keeping the bottles well corked.

Directions for Taking the Syrup: Grown persons can take from four to six spoonfuls in the course of the day, either pure or diluted in a little water, or a less quantity at intervals of three or four hours.

Because much frombled nurses the plant. Persons much troubled during the night may take two tablespoon; also of the ayrup on going to bed, when it will stop the cough and procure a good might's real Children from three to five years old may take from four to six teaspoonfuls during the day in suitable quantities, at intervals of three to four hours.
